Real Madrid go top of La Liga with gritty win over Valladolid

Victory means Zidane's side pull 3 points ahead of Barca, whose 2-0 loss at Mestalla on Saturday under new coach Quique Setien could prove a turning point in title race

VALLADOLID (Spain): Real Madrid moved top of La Liga for the first time since October on Sunday after grinding out a 1-0 win away at Real Valladolid to make Barcelona pay for their surprise defeat to Valencia.

It is 16 weeks since Madrid last finished a round top of the pile and it looked like a scrappy contest at the Jose Zorilla would end goalless until Nacho headed in the winner with 12 minutes remaining.

Victory means Zinedine Zidane's side pull three points ahead of Barca, whose 2-0 loss away at the Mestalla on Saturday under new coach Quique Setien could prove a turning point in a nip-and-tuck title

Madrid now have the luxury of hosting their struggling city rivals Atletico Madrid, who are 10 points back after a goalless home draw with Leganes earlier on Sunday, with a cushion next weekend, not to mention on the back of a 19-game unbeaten run.

That streak included them drawing a game they arguably should have won at Camp Nou in December and then lifting the Spanish Super Cup earlier this month in Saudi Arabia.

As Barcelona pursue a more entertaining style of football under Setien, Madrid march on, gaining momentum with wins that based largely on solidity and a stubborn defence.

Their form has been even more impressive given the absence of key players, with four times together this season. Real Valladolid, who are owned by the former Brazil and Real Madrid striker Ronaldo, are being drawn into a relegation fight after winning only one of their last 12. They stay 16th, five points above the bottom three.

Valladolid's Joaquin Fernandez was lucky not to be sent off early on for a two-footed Eden Hazard, Karim Benzema challenge on Rodrygo, which and Gareth Bale starting only only earned him a yellow card, despite the protests of Madrid's players.

Casemiro thought he had scored when he nodded in at the back post but VAR showed him to have been just offside and Valladolid arguably finished the first half the stronger.

Thibaut Courtois made a good save to deny Michel and then had to backpeddle to prevent Raul Garcia's cross dropping in under his crossbar.

NAPOLI: Piotr Zielinski and Lorenzo Insigne scored in the second half as struggling Napoli shocked champions Juventus 2-1 to spoil coach Maurizio Sarri's return to the Stadio San Paolo on Sunday.

Sarri had not been back to Naples since being sacked in May 2018 after three successful campaigns, and before moving to Chelsea.

This season he has taken over eight-time reigning champions Juve, a move seen as a betrayal by his former team, the two-time Serie A runners-up.

Juve missed the chance to open up a six-point lead on Inter Milan at the top of the table, after Antonio Conte's side were earlier held 1-1 by Cagliari, their third consecutive draw.

Inter are three points behind Juve with Lazio a further two points adrift in third after city rivals Roma ended Simone Inzaghi's side's 11-match winning

"It is pleasant and exciting to go back," said Sarri despite the whistles and insulting banners of his former fans, reserving his criticism for his "under-par, mentally bland" team.

"We lost a match against an opponent who had done the minimum to win," he added.

"We were passive throughout the game, always halfway between pressure and waiting, we made mistakes."

In Naples, Zielinski broke the deadlock after 63 minutes finishing off a rebound after Insigne was denied by Juve goalkeeper Wojciech Szczesny.

Insigne volleyed in a second after 86 minutes to an explosion of joy among the crowd.

Woods mourns Kobe's death, says 'We had our 20-year run together'

LOS ANGELES: Tiger Woods was on the course and in contention when news began to spread that his former training partner Kobe Bryant had died.

The mood at the Farmers Insurance Open at Torrey Pines in Southern California Sunday turned somber according to Rich Lerner, who was commenting for US television. "Eerily quiet on the grounds of Torrey Pines," he said. "People had their heads down, looking at their cellphones trying to come to grips with the terrible reality. "This place was absolutely shaken."

Yet caddy Joey LaCava managed to keep the news from Tiger Woods, who knew Bryant and whose career for a long time ran parallel with the Laker great. "I was trying to win the golf tournament," Woods said immediately after the round. "Joey realised that I was locked in on that and didn't want to distract me with that type of news." "People were yelling, 'Do it for Mamba.' Now I understand," Woods said, referring to Bryant's nickname.

"People yell things all the time, so I was just plodding along, doing my own thing."

"I grew up a diehard Laker fan. He was part of the most historic franchise in the NBA. Ultimate toughness. Ultimate competitor."

Before relocating to Florida, Woods lived not far from Bryant just outside Los Angeles.

"I had a house in Newport (Beach). We'd work out together and hang a little bit but when I sold that house I didn't really see him that often every now and again he'd reach out and I'd reach out to him.

"I was always getting up early, he'd get up early and we'd work out. He missed being competitive," said Woods, speaking to media "eight or nine minutes" after learning the news.

"We really connected on the mental side the prep how much it takes to be prepared. I don't have to react like he does in my sport. We can take our time, but you still have to pay attention to the details — that's what he did probably better than any other player in NBA history. "That's where he and I really connected. We're very similar.

Woods, who is 44, turned professional in August 1996. Bryant, who was 41, was drafted Iune that year in by the Charlotte before being traded to the Lakers and made his NBA debut in November that year. AGENCIES
